

For immediate release – April 17, 2018

Contact – Will Ferreira – wferrei@clemson.edu

Melissa Billey, Project Manager – melissa.a.billey@gmail.com

Due West: The Produce Patch

DUE WEST — A charming produce market and store is nestled inside of Due West, SC. The Produce Patch, 203 N. Main Street, Due West, SC, 29639, holds some of the most delicious, local produce found in the area. The Produce Patch is owned by Cindy Adams. Visiting the store is like visiting old friends. Larry Posey, Store Manager, is there to greet you when you arrive. The store is open daily, Monday through Friday from 9:00AM until 6:00PM, Saturday from 9:00AM until 2:00PM, and closed on Sundays.

This wonderful store is home to South Carolina grown produce along with specialty items from the Amish Country. Cindy Adams travels South Carolina to find new items to be carried in her store. The vast variety of items is amazing, along with the flavor and taste of these items. And yes, I did sample a few items as “research,” and they were incredible. You can find everything from fresh produce, to flavorful granola, tasty fruit juices, and so much more.

The store began when Cindy realized that the area did not have a “local” grocery store, and she wanted to fill that gap. The Produce Patch has grown into so much more though. Instead of just being a store, she is carrying specialty items such as Certified SC Grown items, organic items, and teas that are grown right here in beautiful South Carolina.

CUTLINE: The Produce Patch with its many varieties of items, April 17, 2018.